

Dr. Frank Nawrot is a guitarist, audio engineer, and educator. Frank has been teaching guitar, piano, bass, and drums for over a decade. He has earned a reputation for being a passionate and creative teacher to students of all ages.

Frank's training as a musician first began in high school choir and band. In 2006, he and a childhood friend formed a successful regional rock band in Grand Rapids, Michigan. As the band's singer, guitarist, and songwriter, Frank first learned how to write music and connect with audiences.

Frank's musical roots are in rock and roll, R&B, and hip-hop. Classical music was on his periphery during his youth. During his collegiate studies, Frank became increasingly interested in learning and performing contemporary classical music. He strives to find effective ways to share his breadth and depth of musical knowledge with all of his students so that they too may have a meaningful relationship with the artform.
